

23rd January-27th January 2023

Dear Parents and Children,

Thank you for all the returned homework, the Materials posters the children have made- look wonderful! This week we have been exploring 'transparent' and 'opaque' and have been testing and sorting.

As part of our Art work, the children have been creating a 'Tree of life' sculpture made out of paper. The final masterpiece will be going forward for an Art exhibition with pieces submitted from every class, (photos to follow)!

I am thrilled with the children's progress in phonics and reading, they are continuing to learn a new sound (digraph) every day. Thank you for the reading practice at home.

In music this week we have been listening and appraising 'Blues music' and learning how to sing 'How Blue can you get?' by BB King.

Yesterday we had a visitor from CAFOD describing the charity work done to support people overseas.

We are working hard in our writing!

Acting out a story from our R.E work.

Gong Hei Fat Choy! (Happy Chinese New Year!) The class have enjoyed making Chinese dragons and learning about the celebrations enjoyed in Hong Kong.

Thank you for a great week children. Have a nice weekend!

Mrs Furness
